

Welcome!

The Mardi Gras Parade at the end of July not only kicked off the festival season but also showed the Grassmarket at its best - a lively, welcoming space to be enjoyed by locals and visitors alike. Click here to see a selection of images. There are many more events in store throughout the festival season – check out the events at The Lot and Dance Base below.

August is really shaping up to be a must-visit time for Edinburgh's Grassmarket. Beside the festival activity, there are exhibitions at Transreal Fiction and Fabhatrix and new collections at Swish to name only a few.

If you visit at night, you may well encounter a ghostly presence or two – Cameron Pirie of The Cadies & Witchery Tours explains all in this month's feature.

Last but not least, what better way to finish the festival season than by enjoying a view of the fireworks and a delicious dinner at Heights Restaurant ?

Whether you're visiting the Grassmarket from out of town or 'down the road', August is set to be an eventful month.

Best wishes,

Jos Bastiaensen

Chairman, Grassmarket Area Traders Association.

Beyond the Shop Front

This month's feature showcases The Cadies & Witchery Tours

General Manager Cameron Pirie (pictured here in disguise) will reveal Edinburgh's darker side and tell us why the Grassmarket has attracted its fair share of ghostly characters over the centuries. Find out why their walking tours are one of the best ways to get a taste of Edinburgh's exciting and lurid past.

Impressions of the Jazz & Blues Festival's Mardi Gras Parade

Dance through your lunch break

This month, visitors to the Grassmarket get an impression of what the area will look like once it's finished and Dance Base are marking the occasion by holding free dance classes right outside their studio. Professional dance teachers will put you through your paces between 12 and 1pm, Monday to Friday. The programme includes Salsa, Disco, Ceilidh, Tango, Swing and Linedancing, and lessons will be held from 4 to 22 August. Call Dance Base on 0131 225 5525 for more information.

Discover Lebanese lobsters at Mr Wood's Fossils

The wait is finally over for fossil fans – stock from a recent buying trip to France has arrived at Mr Wood's Fossils and there are some great individual pieces. Highlights include a Solnhofen horseshoe crab, Moroccan trilobites, a giant ammonite assemblage from Schliafhausen (pictured) as well as Lebanese lobsters and meteorite examples from Russia and Oman. See those and beautiful new mineral lines at Mr Wood's Fossils this month.

Dress like Keira and the Scrubs cast with Swish's new lines

Swish are introducing hot new women's label Mina this month. Since it was founded in 2004, Mina has acquired celebrity fans including Keira Knightley, Kimberly Stewart and Sienna Miller. Also new is men's brand Ames Bros which is most famous for t-shirts that have featured on comedy shows including Scrubs. The company has also designed images for Linkin Park and Pearl Jam. We predict both labels will sell fast, so get to the store quickly!

Fruity new vinegars bring a taste of summer to Demijohn

Summer at Demijohn means a range of exclusive vinegars in the store: Elderflower Vinegar is the rarest among them and epitomises the fresh, sweet smell of early summer. Its flavour is similar to elderflower cordial but the vinegar is sharper and more exciting to taste. Use it as a salad dressing on its own or mixed with extra virgin olive oil. To create a refreshing de-stress drink mix one third vinegar with two thirds sparkling mineral water. Be quick because supplies are limited! Other summer vinegars include strawberry, raspberry and bramble versions.

Bag a Bargain

Put crockery on its head and save up to 50% with Fabhatrix

Edinburgh milliners Fawns Reid and Rosy Naylor draw parallels between vintage ceramics and contemporary head forms in their quirky exhibition 'Crockery Capelines' this month. Think surrealist sculpture combined with a mad hatter's tea party. All visitors to the exhibition may claim a £20 gift voucher to be used towards any Fabhatrix own label hat. This fantastic offer allows you to take your pick from the autumn collection and save up to 50% on some styles. Offer only available to exhibition visitors – ask for your voucher when you visit. Vouchers have to be redeemed in September 2008 and are valid for stock only.

Unmissable Events

Alien Surfaces on show at Transreal Fiction

Transreal Fiction is exhibiting 'Alien Surfaces' - a collection of prints by respected nexialist (a person who combines knowledge from different art forms), Madeleine Shepherd. The prints are inspired by surfaces described in classic works of science fiction and fantasy. Expect a different kind of science fiction art as Shepherd's work distorts real images to create a semi-abstract representation of the imaginary using a variety of photographic techniques to render alien planets, landscapes, buildings, skins, vegetation and artifacts from works by Aldiss, Ballard, Lovecraft and Vance. Open Monday to Friday 11am-6pm, Saturday 10am-6pm and Sunday 12-5pm.

Visit: Transreal Fiction, 7 Cowgatehead, Edinburgh, EH1 1JY
